Charles W. Darr Asserts Action Was Based on Decision of CHAMP CLARK IS INCLUDED Less Than a Majority.

- WOULD END CONTROVERSIES

Thinks Placing Power in Commissioners' Hands Would Cause Cessation of Friction.

That the action of the Board of rade in opposing the proposed transfer administration of school affairs was ot representative of the board's opinon and was based on the report of less han a majority of the committee on chools, is the statement made by harles W. Darr. a member of the comnittee, who dissented from the report. Asked why he could not agree with he committee, Mr. Darr said he favored the proposed legislation, not because it provided for a change in the method of pointment of members of the Board of Education, but for the reason that at present the responsibility for the management of school affairs is divided. He considered the judges of the Dis-rict Supreme Court highly competent, ie said, and to be relied upon to appoint board in the best interests of the shools, but this phase of the case, he eclared, is merely an incident.

Continual Controversy.

He declared that even by the board itself it cannot be denied that since the present plan has been in operaion there has been an almost continnous conflict of authority and controersy between the Commissioners and te board relative to some branch of he board relative to some branch of hoof management.

"It is, therefore, best, in my opin-man," said Mr. Darr, "to have the chools of the city managed entirely by the Commissioners, who are reponsible heads of our local government.

He further said that the fear of olitics entering the management of ne schools cannot be entertained with the present Commissioners in ffice, as they have shown conclusivethey do not play politics. In cities ited by the committee of the Board of Trade, where the school system has teen divorced from the general mu-nicipal government, he added, it must be borne in mind that the commisdioners are elected, while here residents are given no voice in the selection and the District heads owe no solitical debt to school officers, teachers or employes. eachers or employes.

Less Than Majority.

'My further objection to the action of the Board of Trade," said Mr. Darr, "is based on the fact that the report of the school committee was authorin the school committee was authorized by less than a majority of its members. The school committee consists of sixty-five members of the Board of Trade.

Tonight's meeting will be the third in the national mevement, the others having been held at New York and Zaltimore, which have followed a wave of more, which have followed a wave of sympathy for the stricken people in Furope. People of Washington have already subscribed to a fund of more than $3,899, which has not been solicited. The committee in charge of raising funds here has sent out blank checks and will distribute more following for. Magnes address with the caption at the top. "This is to give "Bread for the living, shrouds for the dead," Those in charge of the national campaign have already raised a sum in excess of $1,500,000, and it is expected that the $1,500,000, and it is expected that the grand total for the national campaign when it is over will amount to apprex-imately $5,600,000.

The address of Dr. Magnes tonicht will be a repetition of the one delivered in New York, where $1.00,000 was contributed within afteen minutes. "One million homeless leves" is a catch phrase of Dr. Magnes' address. Dr. Magnes has been unusually successful with his work of raising funds and it is the desire of those in charge in this city that a sem be raised here which will exceed that raised in Baltimore.

The capacity of the Eighth Street Temple is estimated at 2,500, and, as it is believed that the main auditorium will hardly hold the crowd desiring to hear Dr. Magnes, arrangements have been made to hold an overflow meeting in the restry room of the temple. The committee which has been arranging the mass meetings and detalls of the accommittee which has been arranging the mass meetings and detalls of the local campaign consists of Dr. Simon Wolf, Julius I.
